

Arlene Silver

There is no better way to serve a community than to provide a useful and affordable space for its members. The gentrification of the building only serves the newest members of that community, ignoring the tradition, wisdom and humanity of its past.