

Fay Chin

The best available facilities as studios are most important for promoting the creativity and development of the artist. To convert the 5th floor from studios to a meeting center is a disservice to the artist and the cultural history of the Educational Alliance.