

Murray Blankstein

The EA Art School is an exceptional facility that provides affordable art classes across a broad spectrum of art fields. It must be encouraged. The proposed renovation should not have a negative impact on the students and the classes as appears likely. The facilities must be restored without derogating from the original facility.